

CALIFORNIA HEALTH ADVOCATES

Medicare: 2010 Premiums, Coinsurance & Deductibles (Original Fee-for-Service Medicare)

Part A - Hospital Insurance	For 2010	For 2009
Part A Monthly Premium
If you have fewer than 30 quarters of Social Security credits, you pay a monthly premium of	$461	$443
If you have between 30–39 quarters of Social Security credits, you pay a monthly premium of	$254	$244
If you have 40 or more quarters of Social Security credits, you do not pay a monthly premium	$0	$0
Inpatient Hospital Deductible	$1,100	$1,068
Inpatient Hospital Coinsurance	$275/day for 61st–90th day	267
	$550/day for 91st–150th day	$534
Skilled Nursing Facility Coinsurance	$137.50/day for 21st–100th day	$133.50
Part B Medical Insurance
	For 2010	For 2009
Annual Deductible	$155	$135
Monthly Premium For individuals with annual incomes ≤$85,000, or ≤$170,000 for couples	$110.50 <sup>1</sup>	$96.40
For individuals with incomes >$85,000 and ≤$107,000, or couples with incomes >$170,000 and ≤$214,000	$154.70	$137.90
For individuals with incomes >$107,000 and ≤$160,000, or couples with incomes >$214,000 and ≤$320,000	$221	$192.70
For individuals with incomes >$160,000 and ≤$214,000, or couples with incomes > $320,000 and ≤$428,000	$287.30	$250.50
For individuals with incomes >$214,000, or couples with incomes greater than >$428,000.	$353.60	$308.30

<sup>1</sup> 73% of Medicare beneficiaries continue to pay $96.40. Unless Congress acts, 27% of Medicare beneficiaries pay this amount or more according to their income, including new Medicare beneficiaries, beneficiaries with higher incomes, and beneficiaries who do not have the Part B premium deducted from their Social Security check, which includes those who also qualify for Medi-Cal or a Medicare Savings Program. Medi-Cal pays the Part B premium for this last group.

# #

This fact sheet contains general information and should not be relied upon to make individual decisions. If you would like to discuss your specific situation, call the Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Program (HICAP). HICAP provides free and objective information and counseling on Medicare and can help you understand your specific rights and health care options. You can call 1-800-434-0222 to make an appointment at the HICAP office nearest you.